IPD Coffee producers from Ethiopia

IPD arranges direct contact for you!

Ethiopia is the largest coffee producer and exporter in Africa. It is also known as the origin of coffee and home to a large pool of professional and innovative companies. In view of this potential, the German Import Promotion Desk (IPD), your partner for sustainable business contacts, initiated a programme in 2023 specifically targeting the coffee sector in Ethiopia.

The programme's objectives revolve around enhancing the country's coffee exports to Germany and Europe, but also in promoting quality, sustainability and local value addition.

For this, IPD has identified promising coffee producers who offer ethically-sourced and high-quality coffee. All companies have been visited and carefully screened by IPD experts beforehand.

We focus on:

- + Product quality, export-readiness, export capacity as well as compliance with international standards and EU-compliant organic certification.
- + In addition, we consider short and transparent supply chains without intermediaries in order to meet the due diligence requirements.

The IPD evaluated companies offer coffee in different forms and presentations, such as washed and unwashed coffee beans as well as certified or conventional coffee. With this product range, the producers are able to serve different market segments and product applications and respond flexibly to customer requirements.

During the World of Coffee 2023 fair in Athens, IPD will introduce you to four carefully evaluated Ethiopian coffee exporters.

We will put you in direct contact with these suppliers and can arrange exclusive virtual meetings for you.

On the following pages you will find detailed information about the high-quality offer of the IPD screened exporters.

Our tip: Find the companies whose products are interesting to you and get in touch with us. We will visit the fair on 22 and 23 June.

Our mediation is neutral, quality-conscious and free of charge.

IPD is an initiative of the Federation of German Wholesale, Foreign Trade and Services (BGA) and sequa, the development organization and partner of German business. We are funded by the Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development (BMZ).

In line with our development policy objective, we aim to increase exports from partner countries, promote innovation and higher value creation in order to contribute towards sustainable economic development in partner countries.

Ethiopia – the birthplace of wild Arabica coffee

Coffee culture in Ethiopia has a long tradition. The legend says that in the 9th century the goat herder Kaldi discovered coffee plants in Kaffa Region, Ethiopia. He witnessed that his goats became more energetic and did not want to sleep at night after eating the coffee cherries. Kaldi reported his observations to the abbot of the local monastery, who made a drink from the cherries: Coffee was born.

Ethiopia is considered the birthplace of coffee and many experts say that it is the only place where coffee grew natively. This is also reflected in the origin of the word “coffee”. In the local language, the word for coffee is bunn or buna. So coffee was sometimes referred to as Kaffa bunn, or coffee from Kaffa. For this reason, some believe that the term “coffee bean” is an anglicization of “Kaffa bunn”.

Today, coffee is one of Ethiopia's most important exportable products and plays a major role within rural communities. Ethiopia's coffee production ranks 5th in the world market (2020) and it is the largest coffee producer in Africa.

The main destinations of coffee exports from Ethiopia are Germany, United States, Saudi Arabia, Japan, and South Korea (2021).

Ethiopian coffee is known worldwide for its vibrant fruity and flowery characteristics, full-flavored, down-to-earth, and full-bodied coffee beans. Decisive factors in providing high-quality coffee beans are, for example, the plants' genetics, taste, appearance, and aromas. This is made possible by certain climatic conditions, soil characteristics and of course the coffee farmer's broad knowledge acquired over decades of coffee production.

Ethiopia is still the center of origin and genetic diversity of wild Coffea arabica. Around 90 percent of the coffee drunk worldwide is Arabica coffee. Scientists estimate that in Kaffa centuries of mostly undisturbed evolution have produced around 5,000 varieties of coffee. Coffee plants are a part of the delicately balanced forest ecosystem in Kaffa and are used by the local inhabitants.

For generations, the communities in this region have passed down the secrets of how best to preserve the Kafa plants and harvest their fruits. For instance, harvesting is exclusively done by hand after a careful selection of the raw beans, and drying takes place naturally in the sun.

Another well-known coffee-growing region is the Djimma region, where wild coffee is harvested. From here comes the coffee Djimmah, which is characterised by a pleasant aroma, light and fine acidity. A must for every coffee lover.

These coffee products provide unique taste experiences and are offered by the selected IPD producers, mostly in organic quality.
